Rules and Regulations

—Governing—
Inter-Mountain Four State Fair

1. The articles of incorporation make the President, the Executive Officer and Manager of the Fair and Fair Grounds. He will have offices during the Fair on the grounds.
2. The Officers and Executive Committee will be on the grounds during the entire fair, and will be convened for business whenever the Manager has business to submit. They shall have control of every article and animal on the ground and while every possible precaution for the protection of the property will be taken, the association will under no circumstances be held responsible for any loss that may occur.

INTERPRETATION OF RULES.

1. The Executive Committee reserves the right to postpone the fair or races in case the weather is unfavorable.
2. The Association reserves to its Executive Committee the final and absolute right to interpret these rules and regulations and arbitrarily settle and determine all matters, questions and differences in regard thereto, or otherwise arising out of, or connected or incident to the Fair.

SUPERVISORS.

1. Each Department will be in charge of an efficient Supervisor, who will be on the grounds having the control and arrangement of all exhibits, and assist the exhibitor in systematically arranging the same so as to show to the best advantage to the spectators as well as to the Judges.
2. The Supervisors shall receive the Class Book of the various classes in his department from the Secretary, taking charge of the same, and record all awards as made by the awarding judges; instruct judges as to their work, have the books signed by each of the judges after the awards are made and return the books to the Secretary as soon as the work is done.

MANAGER.

1. Exhibitors are expected to obey the Manager promptly in producing their stock when requested to do so. Any refractory person will be ruled out from competing.
2. The Chief of Police and assistants shall be sworn in as conservators of the peace, and it shall be their duty to arrest any person creating any disorder or violating any law of the state or rule of decency.

CONCERNING ENTRIES.

1. Entry Books are in readiness and the entries can be made by mail. Great care will be taken that such entries are made correctly and the entry cards are safely returned.
2. All exhibits must be presented on or before 10 o'clock of the first day of the Fair.
3. No direct entry fee is charged for exhibits, except stall and pen rents for animals, but each person making entry, must purchase an exhibitor's ticket, which will cost $1 and entitles him to make as many exhibits as desired, and permit him to pass in and out of the grounds once each day. Each exhibitor will be allowed only one exhibitor's ticket for each member of his family.

1. Tickets for exhibitors and their employees must be purchased for each day of the Fair, unless an exhibitor's ticket is secured for each person.
2. Competition is open to only bona fide residents of Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada and Utah, except livestock, machinery and implements, which is open to the world.

1. No article or animal will be examined for a premium which is not on the grounds by 10 o'clock a. m. of the first day of the fair. Judging will commence at 10 a. m. and all articles and animals must be ready or they will be declared out.
2. No animal unless sound shall be awarded a premium.

1. Except in a sweepstakes, no animal or article shall receive two premiums. The rule does not apply to a stallion with one of his get or a mare with one of her colts; neither does it apply to special premiums or to poultry.
2. Exhibitors must be bona fide owners of the articles or animals exhibited, and where entered, to compete in registered classes, exhibitors must file a recorded pedigree with the Supervisor of the department or furnish satisfactory evidence to the Manager that the animal is entitled to compete in the class.

1. For the convenience of exhibitors an entry blank is enclosed in this premium list.
2. Intending exhibitors must write plainly thereon, the department, class, premium number and name of the articles they wish to enter, using the exact language of the premium list.

1. Tags with coupons will then be furnished by the Secretary with the number, class and department as entered in the Secretary's office. The coupons will be signed by the Department Supervisor when the exhibits are delivered to him. Tags thus issued will be attached to the articles exhibited, the coupons retained by the exhibitor until the close of the fair and then, upon presentation to the Supervisor in charge of the Department, will be an order for the articles entered.

1. Exhibitors must not remove their exhibits without delivering up the proper coupon for each.
2. If it should be discovered that an entry has been made contrary to these rules, the animal or article shall not receive a premium, though one may have been awarded to it.

1. Unless otherwise provided for, agricultural products can only be entered by the producer, manufactured goods by the manufacturer, mechanical or artistic specimens by the mechanic or artist, animals by their owners. A manufacturer, as the term is used here, is understood to be a person or firm owning and operating a manufacturing plant, or his agent.

1. Exhibitors should see that their entry tags correspond with the premiums they intended to compete for, as no correction can be made after the tags are accepted by the exhibitor.

1. Applications for space does not enter your stock or articles. Entries must be made upon the blanks furnished with the premium list. Entries for special premiums must be in the same manner as for regular premiums and upon the entry blanks furnished with each copy of the premium list.

1. Payment of premiums in every class and department will be made on the following basis: Four or more exhibitors.....100 pct. of amount offered Three exhibitors.....75 pct. of amount offered Two exhibitors.....50 pct. of amount offered One exhibitor.....25 pct. of amount offered

1. If any person has more than two exhibits in any number of any class which are the only exhibits in such class, he shall be paid any awards made as if but two exhibits were entered, but if he has any competition from another owner then awards shall be paid as if each entry was by different owner.

1. If only two exhibits are entered in any number and both by the same owner the same shall stand as two lawful entries and may receive one or more awards as above stated.

1. All cash premiums awarded to residents outside of Ogden will, if called for, be paid at the grounds by the Secretary on the afternoon of the last day of the fair. Premiums awarded to residents of Ogden City will be paid at the office of the Association any time after the sixth day after the last day of the fair. Errors in premiums will be corrected until December 1st following the fair, after which time the books will be closed. The premiums and medals will be delivered by the Secretary as soon as possible after award first, second and third prizes.

1. The Judges may award first, second and third cash prizes in any class of exhibits, and no cash prize to another class of exhibits, the object being to specially award those who make exhibits of great merit and to hold the prizes from exhibits unworthy of special consideration. Each first prize will be given a gold medal or such cash premium as the Judges may award, in accordance with these rules.

1. Failure to comply with all the rules and regulations of the Association, an irregularity in the entry, or fraud by misrepresentation or otherwise, detected before or afterwards, shall cause a forfeiture of the premium and it shall be withheld by the Board. When an article is found to be entered in the wrong class or number it will be the duty of the Supervisor to correct the same, entering it in its proper class or number, after consulting the Secretary and shall see that the article is changed in properly tagged and that the exhibitor's coupon corresponds with the tag on the article.

1. The regular premiums offered by the Association cannot be changed by the Judge or Supervisor, and no extra premium can be awarded except by the Judges, on recommendation of the Executive Committee.

1. The award of the premiums will be designated as follows: First premium by blue ribbon or card; second premium by red ribbon or card; third premium by white ribbon or card.

1. There must be competition for each and every premium awarded. When but one exhibit appears to compete for a premium, its merits shall be considered with the same thoroughness as though it was in close competition, and the Judges shall make their report of such, together with their recommendations, to the Secretary, but no premium shall be awarded to an exhibit of this sort.

1. No animal shall compete for the sweepstakes premiums unless such animal has been awarded a first premium at this fair.
2. There will be a grand livestock parade on the fourth day of the Fair, Monday, at 1:30 p. m. sharp. Any premium stock not in line will forfeit all premiums unless exempted by the President.

1. The single judge system is the policy of the Management, and in every case, the Judge is selected with the utmost care, and as far as possible, will be of state or national repute, to be appointed by the Executive Committee.

1. No Judge will be allowed to exhibit in the department which he is judging, or indirectly interested in the result as owner, agent or otherwise. The Judge must avoid contact with exhibitors and will refuse to hear the merits or demerits of exhibits upon which he is expected to pass, discussed by anyone. He must, if an attempt be made by an exhibitor or his agent, to interfere or influence his decision, report the fact at once to the Department Supervisor, who shall protect him from further interference. He will award prizes only to articles and animals regularly mentioned in the premium list and entered in the class book. He will consider quality and not quantity. When articles or animals are not deemed worthy he will not award a premium, whether there is competition or not in the same class. On sweepstakes he will give award to the animal, herd, or exhibit that he shall deem the best type or representation of its breed or class. No person will be allowed in the ring while the stock is being judged except the Judge, officers of the Association and necessary attendants.

1. Any person in any department attempting to influence the Judge in his decision in any way, or approaching him while he is judging for any cause unless to ask for information, will forfeit all premiums awarded and will be excluded from competition and exhibition.

1. If the Judge has good reason to believe that an exhibitor, by false entry, or otherwise, has attempted to deceive him or the public, and obtain a premium by misrepresentation, he shall report the fact at once to the Manager, who may expel such exhibitor from fraud.

1. When respectfully requested by any member of the Executive Board, the Judge is expected to give reason for his decision, stating what constitutes special points of excellence in the case of animals or articles being considered and point out the superiority of one over the other.

1. Objection to any person serving as a Judge must be made to the Department Supervisor in writing prior to any award being made, giving good and sufficient reason therefor, and upon which the Manager shall have full power to act. The reports of the Judge shall be signed and forwarded to the Secretary's office as soon as complete.

1. Judges will acquaint themselves with their work and will make their decision in writing in class book and return same to the Secretary promptly.

1. A protest against a Judge on the grounds of incompetency or previous bias must be made to the Manager. A protest against an award must be made to the Secretary before the close of the day following the making of such award, stating the exact reasons for the same in writing, and must be accompanied by an affidavit and a deposit of five dollars. In case the protest is not sustained, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Association.

1. The Secretary will notify the exhibitor of the protested article or animal of such protest and both parties shall then have ten (10) days to produce sworn testimony in the case. No payments will be made on the protested awards until final action is taken on the same by the Executive Committee, which shall be the board of appeal and appeals.

1. All exhibits when assigned stalls or space become subject to the control of the Department Supervisor. All stock must be fed and cared for by the owner. A transgression of this rule will incur the forfeiture of the premium awarded.

1. Exhibitors of livestock are required to display over each stall or pen occupied by their stock a legible placard containing the name, breed and age, and when possible to do so, with registered number of the animal exhibited, in accordance with Rule 16. A professional sign writer will be on the grounds who will do any work required at reasonable prices.

1. Exhibitors will be required to keep the space in the front of their stalls, for a distance of 20 feet, clear of waste or rubbish of all kinds.
2. Exhibitors will be allowed to sell goods during the Fair by special permission of the Manager, subject to Rule 19, but they will not be permitted to call attention to their wares in any objectionable manner and only such signs and placards shall be put up as the officers in charge shall approve.

1. Exhibitors must attend to the delivery in person or by agent of the articles for exhibition to the Department Supervisor, and in all cases to the proper affixing of entry tags, and must claim their property promptly at the close of the Fair.

1. It is useless for exhibitors to send their exhibits by freight or express to the Association or any of its officers, for they positively cannot attend to properly placing the same in the departments. This must be done by the exhibitors or their agents.

1. Animals of approved quality not eligible to compete for premiums may be entered (for exhibition only) at the discretion of the Manager, and upon payment of such fees as he may determine, but all articles obnoxious or repulsive in their character shall be excluded from the grounds; or if entered without being fully known, shall be removed upon the demand of the Manager.

1. Any article worthy of exhibition not enumerated in the premium list, which may be presented, may be entered in its appropriate class, but no premium shall be awarded unless by special action of the Executive Committee.

1. The Board reserves the right to reject all articles which are offered for exhibit simply as a means of advertising.

1. No changes in the books will be allowed after they are placed in the hands of the Department Supervisor, and all persons entering animals must be sure that their stock is placed in the proper class, and it shall be the duty of the Judge to rule out any animal not answered according to entry.

1. Positively no entry will be recognized unless made on the original entry books in the Secretary's office and corresponding entry tags issued to the exhibitors for the same, and no exhibitor will be allowed to see the entry book until awards are made.

1. The Association, through its officers, and with the aid of the police, will use diligence to care for all property placed under its charge, but it is expressly understood that it will assume no responsibility for entries or losses from any cause.

1. Upon your arrival at the fair grounds with your exhibit you should see the Supervisor of your department, who will assign you space and give you all the desired information. Get your entry tag from the Secretary at any time during the month before the Fair.

STALLS.

1. There will be a charge for box stalls, $3 for the fair, per stall; open stalls, covered, $2; awning pens, $1 each. All charges for stalls or pens must be paid to the Secretary when entry is made.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1. The races will be open at 5 o'clock a. m. A police force will be present day and night. Anyone who misbehaves or uses obscene language within the inclosure during the exhibition will be expelled to leave the grounds. All racing on the track will be prohibited except that on the program.

1. No animals will be allowed to run at 12:25 on the grounds, and all persons hitching to trees or buildings will be subjected to prosecution.

1. If any owner, trainer, rider, driver or attendant of any horse, or any other animal, uses obscene or profane language to the officers, Judges or committee, or be guilty of any improper conduct, he shall be ruled out as an exhibitor, and forfeit all premiums and stakes.

1. Exhibitors will be prompt to obey the Manager in bringing out their animals at such time and place as designated.
